MILUKOFF ORDERED TO LEAVE PARIS

FORMER RUSSIAN FOREIGN MINISTER ACCUSED LAST JULY OF AIDING GERMANY NOTIFIED THAT HIS PRESENCE IN FRANCE IS "UNNECESSARY."

OBTAINED PASSPORTS BY MISTAKE

Friends in Allied and Neutral Countries Are Emphatic in Denials of Allegations Charging Milukoff With Pro-German Sentiments and Activities.

PARIS, DECEMBER 24.—(Associated Press)—Paul N. Milukoff, former Russian foreign minister, who was accused last July of Germanophile leanings has, been obliged to leave Paris, according to the Matin. His presence here was believed to be unnecessary.

Premier Milukoff obtained passports for France at Constantinople by mistake, the newspaper says. He had been in Paris for four days.

Professor Paul N. Milukoff for many years has been one of the most prominent liberal leaders in Russia. He has been the leader of the Constitutional Democrats. He played an important part in the revolution of March, 1917, and was appointed foreign minister in the first revolutionary cabinet, retaining this position until May 16, 1917. Since the overthrow of the Kerensky government there has been various reports of counter movements against the Bolshevik government headed by him.

Last July there were repeated reports that he had joined the Germans, but this was denied by his friends in allied and neutral countries. He arrived in Constantinople from Odessa, December 15th, and in a statement urged that an allied army be sent to southern Russia. From Constantinople he went to Paris.

Evidence Not Lacking That Huns Have Failed to Comply Completely With Armistice Terms

PARIS, DECEMBER 24.—(Havas)—The Germans have not completely complied with the clause of the armistice providing for the delivery of all her submarines, according to the Matin.

The newspaper points out particularly in this connection, the presence on the Norwegian coast of submarine cruiser U-157.

This is a vessel of the most recent type, displacing 1800 tons and credited with having made a cruise of four and one-half months without making port.

Now that the war is over the wonderful accomplishments of the Ordnance Department of the United States Army is permitted to be known. Here is shown one of the monster mortars which was prepared for service against the Huns. This twelve-inch mortar throws a projectile weighing 700 pounds a distance of about ten miles. It is but one of the hundreds of huge guns, which surpass any guns in the world, recently tested at the Government proving grounds at Aberdeen, Md.

EXPEDITION IS OPPOSED

Important Conferences Are Held in Paris in Effort to Bring Cooperation of Allies

(By Associated Press) Paris, Dec. 24.—(Havas)—Important conferences in an effort to find a ground for cooperation between the allies and the United States on the one hand and the other loving, patriot elements in Russia on the other, were held yesterday at the Russian Embassy, today's newspapers report.

The entente governments, the press accounts declare, are completely in accord in a decision to refuse to undertake a vast military expedition into Russia.

It is considered the part of Russia herself to get together her orderly elements which when united, it is declared, will find support and the practical help forthcoming from the allied nations and the American republic.

62ND BIRTHDAY OF PRESIDENT NEXT SATURDAY

(By Associated Press) Carlisle, England, Dec. 24.—The visit of President Wilson to the home of his maternal grandfather in Carlisle on Sunday will be almost coincident with his 62 birthday which occurs Saturday.

The president will attend worship in the Lowther street congregational church of which his grandfather was pastor for 15 years, and will visit the scenes of his mother's early childhood. The pastor of the church has invited him to make an address at the morning service. Arrangements are not yet completed to offer the president the freedom of the city and it is doubtful if the presentation can be made while he is here.

(By Associated Press) Neganee, Mich., Dec. 14.—After being imprisoned for 72 hours in the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company mines here three men, caught by a slide of wet ore late last Thursday, today apparently were suffering no ill effects from their experiences. HINDENBURG TO RETAIN COMMAND

(By Associated Press) Basel, Switzerland, December 24.—An agreement has been reached between the Berlin government and the German general staff by which Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and Gen. Groener, the chief quartermaster general, retain their offices, according to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin.

It is reported from Berlin that parleys between the majority socialists and independent socialists concerning elections to the national assembly have failed and that the independents have decided to nominate candidates in all districts.

SEES PROSPERITY FOR MANY YEARS

Washington, Dec. 24.—(By Associated Press)—"No man living has a child who will ever have a grandchild who will see hard times in America."

This optimistic view of future business and industrial conditions was expressed today by Representative Chas. P. Caldwell, of New York. He was discussing the pending rivers and harbors bill and the beneficial effects it will have in stimulating American commerce.

"Surveys of the shipping world show that when the armistice was signed there were 6,200,000 dead weight tons less ocean tonnage than on July 31, 1914, when the war began. This country is expected to produce something over 20,000,000 tons of ocean going ships within five years.

"Before the war Germany was one of the greatest ocean-carrying nations, now her merchant marine has been either confiscated or destroyed. She has lost one half her man power. She can neither produce nor supply the commerce supplied by her to the world before the war.

"America's commercial man power practically has been doubled, every other beligerent's man power has been cut almost in half."

CLARK WILL TRY AGAIN

(By Associated Press) Washington, Dec. 24.—Friends of Speaker Clark in Congress said today that the speaker would be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1920 although no formal announcement on the subject could be expected for sometime.

FIRST STEP TO TEST DRY LAW

Suit Filed to Prevent Governor From Presenting Prohibition Amendment to Legislature

(By Associated Press) Cincinnati, O., December 24.—The first step to test the validity of the federal prohibition amendment resolution was taken today when attorneys representing both sides of a suit seeking to enjoin Governor James M. Cox of Ohio from presenting the prohibition amendment to the Ohio legislature began the presentation of arguments.

The plaintiff, Alfred G. Erkenbecker, of Cincinnati, alleges through his attorneys that the proposed amendment is invalid because it was not cast by a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress.

The petitioner alleges that the resolution on the amendment obtained a two-thirds vote of those Senators and Representatives voting, but the law holds it must have a two-thirds vote of the total membership of both houses, which it failed to obtain and therefore the resolution is invalid.

THE REAL FACTS ABOUT W. S. S.

(By Associated Press) Washington, December 24.—To clear away a mistaken idea from many sections that war savings certificates must be cashed before January 1st, Lewis B. Franklin, director of War Loan Organization today issued this statement:

"War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps are as good as gold whether your certificates or thrift card is completely filled or not. The idea that unfilled certificates must be cashed before January 1st is baseless.

"The government will continue to sell Thrift Stamps so you can fill out those cards and exchange them for the 1919 issue of war savings stamps."

XMAS MESSAGE FROM ENGLAND TO AMERICANS

Hon. Viscount James Bryce, Former Ambassador to the United States

Addresses Message of Cheer,
For Armenian People, to Rev.
D. H. Rejy of This City

On November 15th Rev. D. H. Rejy, pastor of McNair Memorial Church of this city addressed a letter to Hon. Viscount James Bryce, former Ambassador of Great Britain to the United States, soliciting his assistance in the struggle of the Armenian people to throw off the yoke of Turkish oppression and cruelty.

The great English statesman was prompt in his reply and emphatic in his declaration of sympathy and promise of aid.

The letter, which Mr. Rejy prizes very highly, coming from so great a man and being such message of cheer to a stricken people at this Christmas season, is as follows:

3 Buckingham Gate
S W
4th December 1918

My Dear Sir:

Thank you for your kind words regard that which I have tried to do for your nation. No people have ever deserved the sympathy of the Christian world more than yours has after the martyrdom of centuries. I quite agree with you in desiring the complete extinction of Turkish government over any Christian subject. As you say, this government has always been, and, apparently, always will be a barbarous government. I also hope that the autonomy you desire may be speedily attained, and be made safe for the future.

I shall continue to use whatever influence I have in that direction.

I am faithfully yours,

James Bryce.

Rev. D. H. Rejy.

CHRISTMAS MAIL IS HEAVIEST EVER

The annual rush at the Post Office has reached its height, and never before has the avalanche of incoming and outgoing mail reached the proportions of the present Christmas.

Both the incoming and outgoing mail is taxing every facility of the postal department to capacity. For days the number of packages, cards, and letters have increased until on Tuesday the apex was reached and after Tuesday night the avalanche, which came like a released logjam in a river, will begin to subside and within two or three days almost the last trace of the abnormal conditions will have disappeared.

The Washington post office has handled the great flow of mail with utmost satisfaction, and every precaution has been taken to prevent congestion, and to make deliveries with all possible speed.

Christmas

The Christmas shopping season, the time of preparation, the time for the purchasing of tokens for loved relatives and friends, providing the good things to eat for the table on the occasion of the great peace feast season, is behind us and, to many, it is a season of some anxiety and no little physical exertion, although the work is a work of love and the compelling anticipation joyous.

Tonight Santa Claus comes from his home in the north to visit every single home, let us hope, in all the joyous Christian world.

There was a time when older folks just as they "grew up" ceased to believe in Santa Claus, but this year there are few people, indeed, who haven't as supreme a faith in the existence of the spirit of Christmas as the little children have in the physical existence of the "jolly old elf" who makes both young and grown-ups happy at this season.

Out of the north he comes to us all, no matter what our age. Out of the cold realms of selfishness, bringing the radiant warmth of closer fellowship, good will among men and the promise of peace on earth, teaching us to forget our troubles, forgive those who have wronged us and encouraging us to strive on to higher ideals.

This year Christian people can only realize the immensity of the occasion, preceding that momentous meeting, when the statesmen of the great nations will gather at Versailles to join in an agreement which will insure the peace of the world, the freedom of all people everywhere and bring the nations of the earth into closer fellowship with each other.

No child, in palace or hovel, tonight, passing into the realms of slumber, possessing all the beautiful faith and trust of childhood, is more certain that the spirit of Christmas will descend upon that home, than are people of mature years that the Star of Bethlehem is shining with brighter ray; that the promised time of peace is nearer than ever before and that men, everywhere, are becoming more charitable, more forgiving and more appreciative of their blessings.

The homes of America will resound tomorrow with the acclaim of Christmas in feasting and rejoicing but, it is safe to say that, the spirit of Christmas will be realized by more people tomorrow than ever before.

The homes saddened by the tragedy of war will be brightened by the Christmas cheer and those, whose loved ones have made the supreme sacrifice, will realize, in the changed spirit which will be so manifest, that the cost of it all has brought its compensation in the progress of humanity.

Christmas 1918 will be one of the greatest milestones on the long pathway over which humanity must toil through all the ages. Looking back we can see no such a Christmas time, save that first one, and looking forward, with our limited human vision, we can see nothing ahead that approaches this Christmas in magnitude of present joy and glory of promise.

Germany Today—

While it is not to be expected that a nation of people having endured the sufferings incident to a four-year war, culminating in overwhelming defeat, the abdication of the ruler and a complete revolution in governmental and social affairs, could assimilate all the changes and adapt themselves to the new order of things without considerable confusion and some violent disorders, yet there seems something sullen, something not expected, something, indescribable, yet menacing about conditions in Germany.

Perhaps the world would feel easier about the future of Germany, as it affects other nations, if there was more violence. The disorders and the violent outbreaks have a certainty and a regularity about them, a way of going so far and no farther, the military leaders seem to fail at regular intervals and on most important occasions, and of proving all powerful just when they seem to be shorn of power.

Of course one explanation is that the German people are bred and raised to submit to discipline, they seem disinclined to embrace anarchy and willing to submit, at the first opportunity, to authority even of the old kind.

The German people, if the truth be known are, we imagine, not anxious for liberty as the other people of the world understand liberty, or even anarchy. They prefer the order of war, the rule of a master, iron and blood, though it be, to their own responsibility.

There seems much more probability of a return of the war lords to power than a reign of anarchy in Germany. The people prefer not to be bothered about affairs of state. They want to eat and live in quiet and look forward to other raids upon neighboring states.

POEM FOR TODAY

YULETIDE, 1918.

We know him as jolly, but now he's grown proud.
As he watches the rush of the holiday crowd,
He hears the coins' jingle, the rustle of bills—
At the thought of such wealth with elation he thrills.
As he muses, "One change, a by-product of war,
Has come from the reign of the cruel god Thor!"

He notes the gay windows of numberless shops,
He marks each fine car at the curb as it stops.
So happy, well groomed are the throngs as they walk,
He swaggers among them with real kingly stalk.
And he thinks, "Who can beat it—
Though losses we've had,
We've just schooled ourselves to forget, and act glad!"

He sighs for a minute, then says, "This is true
Throughout our great land of the Red White and Blue.
And one wondrous fact is delighting my heart—
We've shown ingenuity, skill and true art.
I never have seen, in the stocks on display,
More beautiful gifts than are proffered today!

"And each has a meaning of import to me—
In the simplest of toys a great nation I see.
The Made-in-America stamp signifies
A people grown deft, independent and wise!"
Thus Santa Claus muses, with a right to be proud,
As (incog) he keeps tab on your holiday crowd.

NEW REVENUE BILL PASSED BY BIG VOTE

New Tax Measure Provides For Raising Six Billions in 1919 and Four Billions in 1920

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 24.—Without a record vote the Senate late last night passed the war revenue bill, which had been cut to about $6,000,000,000 for 1919, and $4,000,000,000 for 1920.

The House passed the bill three months ago. It then provided $8,200,000,000 for next year.

When the final vote was taken at 10:40 o'clock the Senate had been in continuous session for nearly 13 hours.

Immediately after it was passed the members began their holiday vacation under the plan for three-day recesses until January 2.

Absence of a quorum in the House, however, had prevented that body putting a similar program into effect.

The bill, which had been before the Senate since December 12, now goes to conference with formal meetings of the Senate and House managers planned to begin January 2, with a view to final enactment of the legislation next month.

The Senate conferees appointed were Senators Simmons, of North Carolina; Williams, of Mississippi; and Smith, of Georgia, Democrats, and Senators Penrose, of Pennsylvania, and Lodge, of Massachusetts, Republicans.

Only a few scattering "noes" from the Republican side marked the final vote on the bill. The Republicans did not seek another roll call on the bill's provisions fixing 1920 tax rates and no further votes were taken on the luxuries provisions, reinserted with the rate fixed at 10 per cent instead of 20 per cent.

In disposing finally of the controverted sections the Senate rejected, 55 to 6, the substitute bill of Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, which proposed higher rates, principally on war-excess profits and individual income surtaxes.

Another vote on the second-class postage question also was taken and the Senate sustained, 41 to 22, its previous action in favor of the amendment, which would repeal the existing zone rates on publications and substitute a rate of one cent a pound within 150 miles and 1 1/2 cents a pound beyond.

Several riders were added to the bill, but no important changes in the Finance Committee's draft was made except to reinstate the so-called luxury taxes on a number of articles costing above fixed standards.

Among the riders adopted were provisions for one month's pay bonus to men discharged from the military establishment after signature of the armistice; extension of the Reed "bone dry" law to the District of Columbia, and for 100 per cent taxes on political campaign contributions in excess of $500.

A change made in the auto tax section providing for exemption of trucks, tractors and trailers, reduced the bill's estimated revenue yield by about $30,000,000, but the reinsertion of the luxury tax clause will result in an estimated yield of $80,000,000.

Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, offered the motion to strike from the bill the committee amendment affecting second class postage rates.

WARDS OF COUNTY GET A REAL TREAT

The 37 wards of the county, under the direction of Supt. and Mrs. Plankton, of the County Children's Home, visited the city Monday afternoon and were escorted through the various shops, to their great joy and delight.

Most of the youngsters had small sums of money which they invested in Christmas goods, and the hearts of all were gladdened by the trips through toyland and the shops generally.

It was an interesting sight to watch the youngsters as they admired the various gift things, made their little purchases and chatted among themselves at each new discovery.

Some of the youngsters were rather weak as result of recent attacks of the flu, which had the majority of the youngsters in its grip at one time and the little outing was highly beneficial to them.

TREES REMOVED THE STUMPS REMAIN

The work of removing the half score of water poplars on the west side of the Court House lawn, close to the curb, has been completed, or rather the trees have been chopped off near the surface in the hope that no further trouble will be experienced. A little salt it is stated, has been sprinkled over the stumps to prevent sprouts coming up about them.

The work was done by a crew of one of the Telephone company, with permission of the county commissioners, a city ordinance forbidding water poplars along the streets having been passed several years ago, because of the havoc the roots create in the city sewers.

UNION TOWNSHIP BONDS ARE SOLD

More than a dozen bidders were in the market for the $12,000 worth of Union Township school bonds, which were sold Tuesday afternoon to Breed, Elliott & Harrison, of Cincinnati.

Three of the bids were from banks in this city, and the remainder were from Cincinnati and other large cities.

The bonds bear six per cent interest and the maturity begins in 1920 and the last one matures in 1931.

A liberal sprinkling of khaki has been seen among the crowds of Christmas shoppers during the past few days, and this has been greatly augmented by the arrival of soldiers on leave for the holiday period and who shortly will be mustered out.

Most of the soldiers appearing on the streets and throughout the county have been discharged, however, and will resume their usual occupations soon after the holidays.

DRIVER ASKS PAY FLU IS THE CAUSE

A suit somewhat out of the ordinary has been filed in the common pleas court of Pickaway county against the Board of Education of Salterbrook township, Pickaway county by Otis B. Mowery, who asks judgment in the sum of $139 with interest from Nov. 29th claiming that he contracted with board to drive one of the rural school wagons, and that when the schools were closed for several weeks on account of influenza the board refused to pay him. Mowery insists that the contract was by the month and that no provision was made for inactivity for which he was not responsible.

FEWER ARRESTS THAN LAST YEAR

For the year just drawing to a close the number of arrests recorded on the docket of Mayor Dahl's Court are considerably less than last year, and according to Chief of Police D. L. Moore, total 217.

The usual number has been considerably in excess of this number, it is announced, and as usual the bulk of the arrests were due to drunkenness.

WEDDINGS FEW THIS CHRISTMAS

Up until the noon hour Tuesday only 12 marriage licenses had been issued in this county during the month of December—or about the usual number issued for holiday weddings.

The small number issued forms a new low record for the month of December, and is explained by the fact that the bulk of the unmarried men of 19 to 30 of Fayette county are either overseas or in training camps.

MONDAY BANNER SHOPPING DAY

Monday was the banner day of the holiday shopping season, regardless of the fact that several previous days were extremely busy days in the local stores.

Saturday was a very large day, but Monday brought only real shoppers into the stores, and much of the day and evening the counters were lined with buyers and as a result of unprecedented buying the close of the shopping season tonight will see the stocks of many local stores more depleted than ever before.

The shopping season just ending has been by far the greatest in the history of the city, it is announced by a number of merchants.

While the bad weather of Tuesday was not conducive to the promotion of shopping, hundreds of eleventh hour shoppers were busy from early morning and will be until the stores close at nine o'clock tonight.

BRITISH VETERAN IS LAID TO REST

In St. Andrews church where he had so often been a devout communicant, the rector, Rev. David W. Barre, conducted the funeral services of George McClarence, better known in this community as George Wilson, Monday afternoon.

Having his simple Christian life with a rare conscientiousness, kindly and helpful in the service of his beloved church and to his friends, there were many gathered at the church filled with the desire to pay to this veteran of the British army farewell tribute. The only one of his own family present was the sister, Mrs. Eliza Riley, who had come from Everett, Mass.

The rector conducted the Episcopalian Ritualistic service and the choir sang the chants and the hymns: "Peace, Eternal Peace," and "Nearer My God to Thee" the latter, it was learned from his sister, having been a favorite hymn.

The burial was made in the Washington cemetery, with the acting pallbearers: Messrs. Austin F. and Scott Hopkins, Hon. J. M. Willis, W. W. Hamilton, John R. Sutherland and George Hays.

Cattle Buying For Swift & Company

Swift & Company buys more than 9000 head of cattle on an average, every market day.

Each one of them is "sized up" by experts.

Both the packer's buyer and the commission salesman must judge what amount of meat each animal will yield, and how fine it will be, the grading of the hide, and the quantity and quality of the fat.

Both must know market conditions for live stock and meat throughout the country. The buyer must know where the different qualities, weights, and kinds of cattle can be best marketed as beef. If the buyer pays more than the animal is worth, the packer loses money on it. If he offers less, another packer, or a shipper or feeder, gets it away from him.

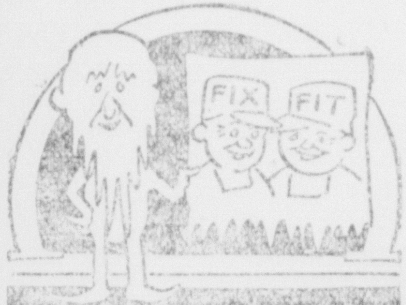

If the seller accepts too little, the live-stock raiser gets less than he is entitled to. If he holds out for more than it is worth, he fails to make a sale.

A variation of a few cents in the price per hundred pounds is a matter of vital importance to the packer, because it means the difference between profit and loss.

SUPERB SHOWING OF XMAS BLOOM

The Christmas season would not be complete without the Christmas display from the Buck Floral Gardens, from which go to the homes of this community Christmas Blooms that add immeasurably to the brightness and beauty of the day.

The display opened Saturday at the Johnson Auto Co. Sales room, in charge of Florist Jensen, and was patronized by buyers numbering many hundreds.

Each year's showing seems to surpass the last and the extent and perfection of the Buck gardens has this year provided a wonderful Christmas display—the sales room a superb conservation of radiant bloom for the entire three days—stocks replenished so constantly that those taken away are not missed.

Baskets, and pots, all showing the exquisite arrangement for which Mrs. Buck and Florist Jensen are famous, are filled with poinsettias, cyclamen, Christmas Cherries, the lovely Mellor Begonias, Primroses, Azaleas, ferns—all of the flowers harmonious with the Christmas season, besides a fine display of cut flowers, featuring roses, poinsettias and carnations.

The line of cemetery wreaths is especially large and beautiful.

Tomorrow, the day before Christmas showing, will be replenished by some of the finest blooms in the gardens and a gorgeous display of cut flowers.

MORE WOUNDED YANKS RETURN

(By Associated Press)
Chillicothe, Ohio, Dec. 24.—Nineteen wounded Yanks, every one of them Ohio boys, who were in the fighting at Verdun, St. Mihiel and in the Argonne Forest, have arrived at the base hospital from Newport News, Va. The contingent was in charge of Lieutenant C. T. Atkinson, of Portsmouth.

With the exception of two men who were gassed, one who is recovering from influenza, one from kidney infection and two suffering from shell shock, all of the men were wounded either by shrapnel or by machine gun bullets. The wounded men are glad that they are back in Ohio, and many of them hope to secure passes to go to their homes for Christmas.

The most seriously wounded is Private Earl Betts, of Cleveland, who had part of his left knee cap torn away by a piece of shrapnel. He was wounded in the fighting in the Argonne Forest on October 14.

HUN SAULS LED REVOLT

(By Associated Press)
Amsterdam, December 21.—The attempt of officers of the German High Seas Fleet to make a suicidal sortie against the British Grand Fleet before the armistice was signed is characterized by the Berlin Vorwaerts as "the last devilish crime against the German people that sealed the doom of the Pan-Germans."

Refusal of the sailors to go out and fight is regarded as the first step toward the German revolution. This mutiny is described by the Vorwaerts as "an act of self-defense by 50,000 men against the villainous Pan-German plan."

"To understand the position," continues the newspaper, "it is necessary to go back to the feverish propaganda by the Pan-Germans at the end of October for a so-called national fight of despair. To save their necks they conceived the idea of baiting the people into a forlorn hope which could only end in complete extermination. The death of the doomed eighty thousand did not concern these maniacs in whose reckoning human blood never counted. Their notion of military honor was that the whole people should suffer themselves to be butchered rather than undergo the shame of defeat."

"With their minds steeped in the worship of might they had no inkling of the revolutionary currents among the men. They still imagined that iron discipline was paramount. Their fiendish plan was to send out the ships to be sacrificed to the last ship. The news spread like wildfire. "At the last stage of the war are we all to be killed?" they asked.

RASPUTIN SLAYER GOES TO RUSSIA

(By Associated Press)
New York, Dec. 24.—Dr. Stanislaus De Lazover, admittedly one of the slayers of the Monk Rasputin and a member of the Russian Duma under former Czar Nicholas, left here Monday aboard the French steamship La Lorraine, intending to return to Russia to assist in the organization of a new government at Odessa.

"The state which we hope to set up at Odessa will be the nucleus of a large army," he said, "with which, with the assistance of the allies, we should be able to restore order and stamp out the Bolsheviks."

Dr. De Lazover arrived in the United States last September for the purpose he said, of acquainting this government with the political situation in Siberia.
